

LYING LETTERS MADE TROUBLE.

Authorship of Anonymous Letters Which Have Separated Husbands and Wives and Broken Many Engagements.

SHREWD AND RICH LUNATIC.

It is believed in Chicago that the Letters All Came from a Woman of High Social Position in that City.

CHICAGO, Dec. 3.—To a woman of high social position and excellent character, who is the victim of a morbid mental malady, is ascribed the plague of anonymous letters which, for nearly four years, has caused grievous annoyance to many persons of prominence in this city.

The venom and craft of the letter-writer has wrecked many homes. A person of wide acquaintance and intimate knowledge of the personal habits and friendships of her victims, she has been able by use of the most shocking vilification to effectually besmirch the characters of those she selects for attack.

Watched Society Columns.

The writer has kept close watch on the society columns of the city papers. Announcements of engagements and weddings have been followed by venomous letters addressed to the bride or bridegroom, or members of their respective families.

The writer has never scrupled to make the most revolting charges of immorality against her victims, and this she has done with an insane cunning and circumspection that has often carried conviction. Wives and husbands have been estranged, friendships ended, engagements broken, weddings deferred and homes made unhappy because the recipients of the letters have allowed themselves to be influenced by the charges of the anonymous writer.

In rare instances her charges have hit a mark, but in the majority of cases after long months of suffering and silence, her victims have realized the baselessness of her charges.

Mayor Harrison a Victim.

Mayor Harrison was one of her earliest victims, and his vigorous investigation brought him to suspect one of his life-long friends. Others who have been victims of her attacks are ex-Mayor Hempstead Washburn, Graeme Stewart, Seth N. May, Mrs. Fannie McIntyre, Dudley Butler, Vincent Walsh, Kinney Smith and Dr. Groesbeck Walsh. Dr. Fernand Henroth received one of the letters two years ago and at once made vigorous complaint to the postal authorities. Inspector James E. Stewart went to the case. Other victims were interested, and they paid for the employment of private detectives. They established that the letters were mailed within a limited district in the fashionable section of the north side.

This woman enjoys the best social position and is mentally sound on all other questions. One whose family has been the victim of the letter writer, but who declines to allow the use of his name, said to-day:

"All but proved guilty. A woman of apparent refinement, whose mental peculiarities have never occasioned more than the passing remark that she was 'queer,' has been all but proved guilty of this charge. The proof could have been secured were we able to get the hearty support of the postal authorities in prosecuting our investigation, but this has been lacking. We have found a striking similarity in writing that has led experts, detectives and novices alike to point to the same source as responsible for the authorship of the objectionable missives.

"We have been able to show that these letters were mailed from the same boxes and at the same time the suspected woman was seen to mail letters. Our detectives shadowed her to the post boxes, but there they were balked and could go no further."

A local paper prints an interview with Dr. Fernand Henroth, in which the physician gives in detail circumstances which convinced him of the identity of the woman who wrote the letters that attacked his family. He says the accused woman came to his office several times and discussed the letter writing episode so dramatically and excitedly as to prove beyond a doubt that she was not only guilty but mentally afflicted.

Dr. Henroth is quoted as saying he sought mothers of her family and urged upon them the necessity of placing her under treatment. His advice was received with scorn.

WILL GO FREE ON PLEDGE.

Wife of Policeman, Arrested by Him, Gets Another Chance.

The wife of Policeman Procht, of the Broadway squad, whom he arrested at his home, No. 415 West Forty-seventh street, last Monday on a charge of drunkenness, was arraigned before Magistrate Pool, in the West Side Court this morning.

Her husband asked that she be committed to an institution. Magistrate Pool said that she did not appear to be incurable, and that he would give her another chance.

Policeman Procht interrupted: "But, Your Honor, she signed the pledge Saturday, and when she came home with me she was more boisterous than ever."

THREE MURDER TRIALS.

Justice John M. Davy, of Rochester, presiding the Criminal Branch of the Supreme Court, this morning. Before this court will come the case of John James Young, the young Mormon accused of the murder of Mrs. Annie Puleo.

Justice Davy will also try Thomas and Alexander McInerney, for the murder of Capt. James H. Brady, and also Thomas Sharkey, a former Banker Nicholas Fish.

LAW TO ABOLISH BABY INSURANCE

Pennsylvania Legislature When It Meets Will Act on a Repealing Bill to Wipe Out Fraudulent Concerns.

PARENTS HAVE CONFESSED?

Rumor in Philadelphia that Father and Mother Accused of Poisoning Their Children for Gain Have Told All to Police.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 3.—A repealing bill to abolish baby insurance in Pennsylvania and wipe out seventy-five companies said to be now conducting a fraudulent business will be presented to the Legislature when it meets in Harrisburg. Public indignation has been aroused by the alleged murder of the Williams children, and the legitimate beneficial companies, backed by the State Department of Insurance, have taken up the matter.

It is estimated that the companies have several thousand victims. All of them are organized under the act of 1874, and Insurance Commissioner Durham will advise the repeal of this law in his report to Gov. Stone.

Confessions from Parents?

It is said that a confession has been written from Mr. and Mrs. John Williams, who are in jail on a charge of poisoning their children. The evidence in the case is said to be all in hand, and it is likely that the inquest will be continued before Coroner Dugan to-morrow.

When it was learned yesterday at the inquest of Oliver F. Douglass that the child had been insured in one of the so-called beneficial companies, Coroner Dugan stopped the inquest and inquired of Insurance Commissioner Durham concerning the legality of baby insurance. He was told that the company was within the law, but that an effort would soon be made to repeal the law.

Rheinhold R. Koch, president of the Beneficial Association Alliance, which is leading the movement against the alleged fraudulent companies, said:

CONSUMPTION CURED.

Mr. Edward Schubart and Mrs. H. C. Allington, Whom the Doctor Said Had Incurable Consumption, Were Permanently Cured by

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

STOPPED HEMORRHAGES.

Gentlemen: It is with great pleasure that I write to inform you that I have used eight bottles of your Pure Malt Whiskey, and would not have been here to-day but for your wonderful medicine. I have used all kinds of cough syrups and been under the care of doctors. I have had three severe attacks of grip and pneumonia, which have left me with a bad cough, weak lungs and heart. I am 67 years old. I have used your Pure Malt Whiskey for some time and it has stopped the hemorrhages. I have not had a cough since I began to use it. I feel like a new man. I think that if I had known of your whiskey before I was at home in Chicago, I would have never come out here for my health.

Yours respectfully,
MRS. H. C. ALLINGTON,
Nashua, N. H., Sept. 11, 1902.

QUICKLY CURED.

Dear Sirs: I picked up one of your circulars on a table about a month ago and read it through. After reading I went out and bought a bottle of your whiskey, which helped me right away. I am now on my fourth bottle, and I feel like a new man. I think that if I had known of your whiskey before I was at home in Chicago, I would have never come out here for my health.

There are thousands of cases just like that of Mr. Schubart and Mrs. Allington, where the patients thought they had incurable consumption until they had used your Pure Malt Whiskey. It is absolutely pure and possesses more curative power than all other medicines. It contains no fusel oil, so common in other whiskeys, and which is a dangerous ingredient in whiskey, especially for the diseased system, when the poison takes effect.

Dr. Henroth is quoted as saying he sought mothers of her family and urged upon them the necessity of placing her under treatment. His advice was received with scorn.

societies, proves a temptation to mothers and others to neglect their sick infants. They would rather keep up the insurance money than use it to buy medicine. But the proportion of infanticides is small when you consider the great number that are insured. No one knows except those in the business the fraud that is practiced upon the public by some of these small companies that collect insurance with no intention of paying a sick or death benefit. They count on doing enough business in six months a year to make a little money and then dissolve. They generally drop out of existence when death claims begin to come.

Hard to Catch Guilty.

"Under the present law it is hard for the authorities to get a hold on the guilty men. Several weeks ago an organizer went to New Jersey and for $400 procured a charter for a beneficial organization and started business in this city. We threatened to expose him and his company disappeared. There is a company here composed of five men who are to-day carrying on a fraudulent insurance society under the name of the authorities. Every Saturday night they meet and divide the 'profits' of the week, money paid to them by credulous persons for policies that never will mature."

FUNERAL OF DR. PARKER.

Thousands Pay Tribute to the Dead Preacher.

LONDON, Dec. 3.—Thousands of persons of all classes marched in a procession of two past the bier of Dr. Parker, the pastor of the City Temple, in that edifice to-day, while undeterred by the miserable weather prevailing long and weary hours of people awaited their turn.

According to the wishes of the dead, a funeral service was held, but there was a great display of floral tributes.
